

Behind a Closed Door By: Ava Bullis

People have many different disabilities do you know their capabilities try and see the friend they can be... Ask questions, be kind, and have an open mind. Don't shut the door, you could be missing out on so much more. Like all of us, they are a piece in our world like a stitch in a hem. So be who you are and make a new... FRIEND!

Poem is written on a drawing of a cochlear implant. The title is written on the coil and the poem is written on the earhook and battery module. Braille above the drawing spells out "Behind a Closed Door by, Ava Bullis."
